A bottle brush is an essential tool used to clean glass, plastic, or other material bottles.

Typically made with sturdy bristles and a long handle, the bottle brush allows reaching into the bottle's interior, removing dirt, liquid residue, and other impurities.

Its elongated and flexible shape facilitates cleaning even in the hardest-to-reach places, such as the bottle's bottom and narrow neck.

Bottle brushes are available in different sizes to fit various types of bottles, from wine bottles to spirits bottles. They are widely used in homes, restaurants, bars, and beverage industries to ensure bottles are clean and ready for use.
